9) The Secret Spreading of Precious Tao

Tao appears and disappears without showing its form. When Tao appears, one cannot see its root, when Tao disappears, one cannot see its concrete forms.

Heaven has sent Tao down to save the people. The messenger from the Supreme God received His order and thereby divulge the secrets of Tao and lead us to the recognition of our spiritual root. If our Heavenly Mother does not give Her order, no one (including Gods and Buddha) would dare to reveal its secrets any further. Therefore, anyone in search of the Truth should make full use of the opportunity. Unfortunately, those who take it lightly will suffer great loss and bear sufferings for another 129,600 years.

Admission to Tao acceptance is by recommendation only and any casual visits by the outsiders are generally discourage. The acts of praying and paying respect to Gods are taboos to the view of outsiders and it is done in a style fitted only to our all supreme Heavenly Mother and the following hierarchy of Gods. The 'three secrets' given are to be treated to the utmost secrecy because whatever leakage done would face the livelihood of death within three to one hundred days. Tao is too precious to be taken lightly.

Any creation and occurrence on this earth can be made possible by the Supreme control of our Heavenly Mother. Our earth is created by her sole effort. So as said, anyone who sincerely and faithfully accept and cultivate it, one day will arrive when he would be 'bright', and reached Nirvana, a Pali term which means he has achieved complete enlightenment (complete wisdom and perfect compassion). In other words, anyone can become a saint, a sage or a Buddha whom so many worshipped for so long a historic time.

The truth and the reality of Tao is not represented on paper. Although Tao is mentioned in other religious holy books of Koran, Tao-te-ching, Buddhists scriptures, Confucius Classics and the Bibles, it is hidden and unintelligible to those who have not accepted Tao before. It is a secret that can only be unveiled by a Messenger of God after Tao acceptance. The fact that it is so important that when wrongly spread to evil people or demons, it will cause harm and disturbs the peaceful tranquil of the people. Any person who purposely make known either with evil intention or with adulterated ideas or in a way likely to cause bad public sentiments towards Tao spreading, is bound to be punished by the actions of thunder and lightning. It should be secretly spread because it contains many outcomes and secrets which outsiders should not know. In fact, it is so important that over two thousand years ago when Shakyamoni Buddha was spreading Tao to his disciple 'Chia Yeh', he used his robe to cover the action from the sight of a third person.

A person's livelihood and thinking must not be conceited and based on science alone because it bogged and narrowed the mind. Those who cultivate their abilities in mere worldly studies, hoping thereby to recover their original nature, and those who confuse the desires of their minds in worldly thoughts, hoping thereby to reach enlightenment – these are people seeking for his real image and universal truth. Science is the experimentation of material truth while Tao cultivation confines itself to moral and spiritual truth; the searching for the real image of Buddhahood. Through proper development of his faculties, one is capable of knowing his past lives and the thoughts of other people anticipates modern experiments in the field of brain waves.
